Key Players to Watch

Erling Haaland — Manchester City

Haaland remains one of Manchester City's biggest attacking threats. After scoring 27 Premier League goals last season, he will be expected to play a major role in City's attack.

Jean-Philippe Mateta — Crystal Palace

Mateta was Palace's leading Premier League scorer last season with 12 goals. His performance could be particularly important as Crystal Palace attempts to recover from its opening defeat.

Manchester City vs Crystal Palace Match Preview

Manchester City will try to maintain its winning momentum, while Crystal Palace will be looking for a much-improved performance after its loss to Everton.

The contrast in their opening results makes this an interesting early-season Premier League matchup. City has already collected three points, while Palace is still searching for its first result.

With Haaland leading the Manchester City attack and Mateta providing the main threat for Crystal Palace, both sides have players capable of making a major impact.
